

Open position: Ph.D. candidate

The NCCR Democracy is an interdisciplinary research program funded by the Swiss National Science Foundation and the University of Zurich. It researches the challenges to democracy in the 21st century. For more information, visit www.nccr-democracy.uzh.ch.

Position: The NCCR project "The Mediatization of Political Decision-Making" examines how and to what extent mediatization influences political decision-making. The Ph.D. thesis will focus on Switzerland. More specifically, the objectives of the project can be summarized as:

- Examine how specific decision-making processes are depicted in the media.
- Examine how media coverage influences the actors' strategies, as well as the decision-making structures and processes.

Special consideration is given to the effects of Europeanization in this context.

We offer:

- An exciting Ph.D. project that is both well defined and adjustable to your interests
- A guarantee to write a high-quality Ph.D. thesis within four years
- A stimulating and collegial work environment
- The chance to concentrate entirely on your research (no administrative tasks)
- A place in the multidisciplinary and multicultural NCCR doctoral school
- Flexible working terms

Your profile:

- Master degree (or equivalent) in political science or in a related field
- Strong analytical skills and ability to work independently
- Interest in political decision making
- Enjoys learning and contributing to a collaborative environment
- French or German mother tongue with a good level of the other language; English desirable

Location: University of Geneva, Switzerland.

Terms of employment: The salary is determined according to the pay scale of the Swiss National Science Foundation (1st year: 40'200 CHF, 2nd year: 43'200 CHF, 3rd and 4th year: 46'200 CHF).
